MPREIS the Coolest Grocery Store

I love grocery shopping. There is something so satisfying about going down the aisles and looking at fresh produce and products.

Grocery shopping is even more enjoyable in a nice atmosphere. I just found this company in Austria called, MPREIS. It is a grocery store chain and it looks like each outlet is designed by a different architect. All talented in the design of modern, minimalist structures, these architects just brought grocery shopping and retail to a new level. How much fun would it be to shop in a store like this? It's my heaven! Please expand to Toronto.
